

Day #85

I believe that apps and websites waste time for many ~~reasons~~. First, apps and websites have games. The games are fun for many people. In addition fighting games, gun games, old kid games or even little kids game. ~~The~~ Next, apps and websites helpful because it help you in the future. For instance your homework help you everyday. College and your job so you can lives and maybe have a family. Without having it you maybe not have anything you want. When your older.

finally, Sometime is ok you can play game but most time you need to work or exercise.
